

Becoming a Successful Construction Subcontractor Webinar

October 22, 2025
10:00 a.m. – Noon

Join us on October 22nd to learn PJ Dick Construction's expectations for becoming a subcontractor on their current and upcoming projects. PJ Dick is one of the largest construction contractors in the Mid-Atlantic region and they credit their success to the people they work with.

Currently, PJ Dick is seeking subcontractors who are problem solvers, highly skilled in their profession, care about the working relationships they forge, and take pride in a job well done.

Speakers

Theresa Giacomino is the Senior Project Manager/Subcontractor Outreach and Diversity Coordinator for PJ Dick Construction. Theresa will discuss topics such as preparing to work in the construction industry and how subcontractors can best position themselves to work with PJ Dick on their current and upcoming projects.

Justin Jones is the Director of Estimating and Preconstruction at PJ Dick Construction. He will share insights into the do's and don'ts of estimating requirements as a subcontractor with PJ Dick.

Register by October 21, 2025, at <https://cupgaco.ecenterdirect.com/events/902>

For more information, contact Dr. Pricilla Robertson at robertson@pennwest.edu or 724-938-5881.

